

TAMING
the Mind

Bhikshuni
THUBTEN CHODRON

Snow Lion Publications
Ithaca, New York • Boulder, Colorado

CONTENTS

Foreword by His Holiness the Dalai Lama

Introduction

I An Outlook on the World and a Way of Life

1. Mind Is the Creator of Our Experience
2. The Four Noble Truths: Creatively Dealing with Difficulties
3. From Confusion to Enlightenment:
A Step-by-Step Method to Transform Our Minds
 - The First Step: Preparing for the Future
 - The Second Step: The Wish for Freedom
 - The Third Step: Seeking Enlightenment for the Benefit of All
4. Practical Guidelines for Good Living
5. Precepts: Directing Our Energy Positively

II Our Relationships with Others

1. Spiritual Mentor: Relating Realistically to a Spiritual Guide
2. Parent and Child: Being Close While Letting Go
3. Friendship: Sharing and Caring
4. Colleagues and Clients:
Working Together and Resolving Differences
5. Marriage: Helping Each Other Grow

III Taming Bad Habits, Cultivating Good Ones

1. Complaining: A Favorite Pastime
2. Speaking of the Faults of Others:
How to Make Ourselves and Others Miserable

3. Ruminating: Living in the Past and Future
4. Being Responsible for Our Lives:
Lesson from an Inmate
5. Cultivating Beneficial Habits:
Practicing Dharma in Daily Life

IV The Spread of the Buddha's Teachings

1. The Life of the Buddha: An Inspiration for Us All
2. Buddhist Traditions: Finding What Suits Us
3. Theravada, the Tradition of the Elders:
Buddhism in Sri Lanka and Southeast Asia
4. Mahayana, Pure Land, and Zen:
Buddhism in the Far East
5. Integration of Sutra and Tantra:
Tibetan Buddhism
6. Buddhist Temples and Dharma Centers:
What Happens There?
7. Buddhist Festivals and Rites:
Holidays, Birth, Marriage, and Death

V Buddhism Today

1. What Is Buddhism, What Is Superstition?:
What Buddhism Says about Ghosts, Fortunetelling, and Psychic Powers
2. Religious Harmony: Diversity Is Beneficial

Glossary

Additional Reading